

Appendix 10

<http://www.kosovo.com/default2.html>:

Golgotha

Of Kosovo Serbs and Minority Groups in Post-war Kosovo

Truth in facts...

PHOTO

Part I

Part II Part III

Suffering of Kosovo Serbs and their Church in Kosovo c o n t i n u i n g...

At the beginning of the New Millennium Kosovo Serbs are the only people in Europe killed because of their language, religion and ethnicity, completely deprived of freedom of life, movement and work. Crimes against Serb civilians and their culture are being committed by Albanian extremists not in the time of war but in the presence of 40.000 NATO troops and the UN mission.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR ALLOWING NEW REPRESSION REPLACE THE PREVIOUS ONE?

In three and a half years 3.276 Serbs and other non-Albanians killed by terrorists in Kosovo and Metohija
Radio Television Serbia
Belgrade Feb, 20, 2002
In the period between January 1998 and November 2001 3.276 Serbs and other non-Albanians were either killed or are still missing reported the Federal Committee for gathering information on crimes against humanity and violations of international law in Belgrade. The Federal Committee has gathered detailed files on each killed or missing person. The majority of the victims were killed or abducted during the UN/NATO peace mandate, after June 1999.

KOSOVO AS IT REALLY IS.....

PHOTO

When NATO troops and UN mission arrived to the province one repression of an undemocratic regime was replaced by another repression launched by the Albanian armed rebels known as UCK, mafia from Albania and individuals seeking revenge.

PHOTO

The freedom has come only for ethnic Albanians while the everyday life for Serbs became a real hell full of suffering and unrestrained Albanian terror. Since the end of war around 900 Serbs have been killed, more than 1200 have been kidnapped or taken to UCK run illegal prisons, thousands of Serb homes were set on fire, at least 100 churches have been destroyed or seriously damaged. Around 200.000 non -Albanian population had to leave the province because to be a Serb in Kosovo or speak Serbian language in the street today is enough to be killed or abducted. Serbs can only survive in enclaves where they enjoy some relative freedom within the range of few miles. Serbs of Kosovo ask themselves why was one injustice replaced by another? Why the world which stood up in defence of suffering Albanians now turns the blind eye to the suffering Serb civilians. More than two years after the war Kosovo is free only for criminals and smugglers and remains unsafe and volatile for non-Albanian minorities.

O S C E

Ninth Assessment of the Situation of Ethnic Minorities in Kosovo

(Period covering September 2001 to April 2002)

PHOTO

Kosovo's non-majority communities - life at the margins of society

PHOTO

Three years after the war Serbs can travel only in escorted convoys

The situation in Kosovo and Metohija in light of the most recent session of the UN Security Council

Without signs of fundamental progress

by Fr. Sava Janjic

\(document in MS Word format\)

PHOTO

MAP

Ethnic map of former Yugoslavia before the New Balkan wars 1991-1999 (click for the larger version 404KB)

ETHNIC MAPS OF KOSOVO

PHOTO

Serbs and Roma, 2001

PHOTO

Serbs and Roma, 1991

PHOTO

Ethnic Composition in 1991

PHOTO

The Serb quarter in Prizren

The Ottawa Citizen: 'The most dangerous place on Earth'

Secret guerrilla armies. Neighbours stoning schoolbuses. Two peoples living in terror and hatred: Three years later, war-ravaged Kosovo remains a powderkeg.

June 22, 2002

Disappearance of Multiethnic cities in Kosovo and Metohija

PHOTO

Desecrated Serb cemetery near Pec, October 2001

The War Against the Dead...

Systematic destruction and desecration of Serb Orthodox Cemeteries
Report with photographs

Albanian terrorists continue killing Serb women and children in the NATO presence three years after the end of the war....

A Serb Woman in Kosovo town Riddled With Bullets, Feb. 22, 2002

PHOTO

Antichristian acts of vandalism continue.....
Vandalized Serb Orthodox cemetery in South Mitrovica, Feb 2002

Church of St. Sava in South Mitrovica set on fire

PHOTO

"If it is absolutely certain and clear that terrorists in Kosovo and Metohija have thus far razed and burned 108 Orthodox churches and monasteries, why then would there be any difference with this, the 109th case. Those desiring to cover up terror committed against the Orthodox Church in Kosovo and Metohija have to put forth stronger evidence to convince us that it was merely carelessness, forgotten lit candles, or malfunctioned installations. The clergy ascertain that on that day there was no service, candles were not lit, and also that there was no electricity that evening in the entire block surrounding the church" – reported His Grace Bishop Artemije of Raska-Prizren to the Information Service of Serbian Orthodox Church regarding the fire in St. Sava's church in Mitrovica.

CRUCIFIED KOSOVO

Destroyed and desecrated Serbian Orthodox Churches in Kosovo and Metohia (June - October 1999)

<http://www.kosovo.com/sk/crucified/default.htm>

PART II

Part I Part III

ETHNIC INTOLERANCE AND CRIMES IN POST-WAR KOSOVO

(click to enlarge each photo; photos from the CIVPOL archive)

PHOTOS

Kosovo Albanians beating non-Albanian male in the streets of Pristina after the war

Why Kosovo - The Anatomy of the Needles War Prof. Bob Allen

Why minority rights go unprotected- the international community's tacit approval of reverse-ethnic cleansing in Kosovo A Study by Jennifer Zimmerman, Colby College, Waterville, ME. USA, Dec 3, 2001

Full Text Report: The Latest OSCE Report on Position of Ethnic Minorities in Kosovo Kosovo society still based on ethnic and religious discrimination Christian monuments still exposed to everyday desecration

All previous OSCE minority reports in post war Kosovo

More than 10.000 Serb and other non-Albanian houses set on fire in Kosovo in the very presence of NATO troops continued on:

<http://www.kosovo.com/default2.html>, <http://www.kosovo.com/default1.html>